

Salvador Balcorta is the CEO of Centro de Salud Familiar La Fe, Inc. (La Fe) — one of the US-Mexico border region's leading community-health organizations. Since 1992, Balcorta has spearheaded La Fe's transformation from a grassroots clinic into an internationally renowned, comprehensive health and human-services nonprofit and the region's largest Federally Qualified Health Center.

He has served on advisory panels addressing communicable diseases, substance abuse, HIV/AIDS, teen pregnancy, gangs, incarceration, community-economic development, immigration, US-Mexico Border health, and other social-justice issues. Balcorta has been recognized nationally and internationally for his work and is the recipient of numerous awards, including the prestigious UTEP Gold Nugget Award for the College of Health Sciences, which he received in 2019.
