

How to Forget a Wireless Connection in Android

Here are the steps to forget the connection settings for a wireless connection in Android.

1. First, open the Settings window in Android.

2. Then enter the wireless settings section by tapping on Wi-Fi.

3. Under the wireless settings, choose the network that you want to forget. For UTEP's wireless network, the network name should be utepsecure. Tap on the network name to select it.

4. When the network connection settings pops up, tap on FORGET to forget the connection settings. You may need to restart the Android device to complete this process.

