Guillermo Valenzuela

Chief Corporate Officer, Aliviane

Guillermo Valenzuela, born in Ciudad Juárez, Mexico, is a seasoned expert in behavioral health, advocacy, and U.S.-Mexico relations with over 25 years of experience in public policy and community engagement. He has worked across the U.S. and Mexico with diverse stakeholders, including behavioral health professionals and government officials, focusing on substance use prevention, drug demand reduction, and border policy issues. Mr. Valenzuela has presented to prominent entities such as the Office of National Drug Control Policy, the Presidency of Mexico, and the Texas Drug Demand Reduction Committee and has briefed U.S. and Mexican legislative committees on key border policy challenges.

As Chief Border Liaison for Congressman Silvestre Reyes, Chair of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, he provided strategic counsel on border security, public health initiatives, and policies addressing behavioral health and substance use challenges. He remains a dedicated advocate for innovative behavioral health strategies to strengthen communities on both sides of the border.
