Proposal Title: Change in the Titles of Economics Principles Courses

The two lower Economics courses listed as ECON 2303 and ECON 2304 currently have the same title, Principles of Economics, despite covering different material included in the course descriptions. This causes confusion for students, faculty, and advisors. It is recommended that the following changes be made to avoid this confusion in the future and better reflect course content.

Current Course Number	Current Course Title	Proposed Course Title
ECON 2303	Principles of Economics	Principles of Macroeconomics
ECON 2304	Principles of Economics	Principles of Microeconomics
