

NOTICE OF POTENTIAL INELIGIBILITY FOR LICENSE (Electronic notice will appear upon registration)

Texas law:

- restricts the issuance of occupational licenses based on a license applicant’s criminal history; and authorizes the

in some cases, to consider a person convicted, even though the person was only on probation or community supervision without a conviction.

As an applicant/enrollee in an educational or training program that prepares individuals for issuance of an occupational license (as a Registered Nurse), I have been provided with notice by The University of Texas at El Paso School of Nursing of the following:

- If I have been convicted of an offense or placed on probation, I might not be eligible for an occupational license issued by the Texas Board of Nursing after I complete this educational or training program;

The Texas Board of Nursing criminal history guidelines are available at https://www.bon.texas.gov/licensure_eligibility.asp and include restrictions or guidelines Texas Board of Nursing uses to determine eligibility for an occupational license; and

- I have the right to request a Declaratory Order from Texas Board of Nursing, which is explained in more detail at https://www.bon.texas.gov/faq_new_and_accept_student_STUDENT2.asp

Section 53.152, Occupations Code, requires that notice be provided to each applicant and enrollee regardless of whether the applicant or enrollee has been convicted of an offense.

No action other than your signature below is required at this time.
